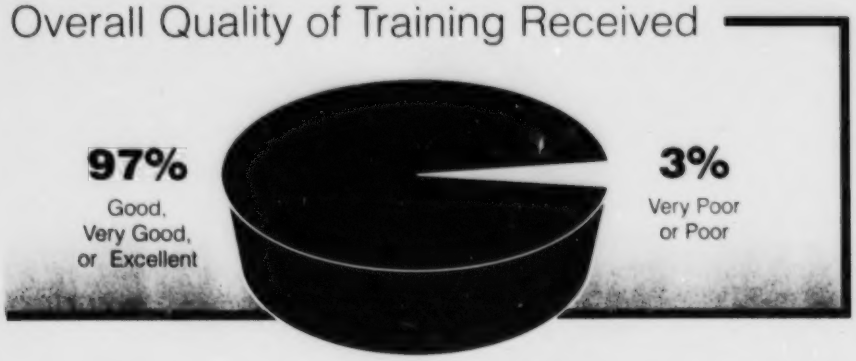
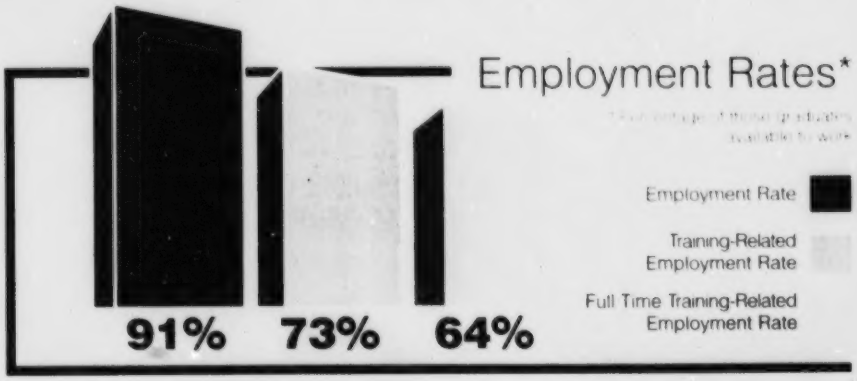
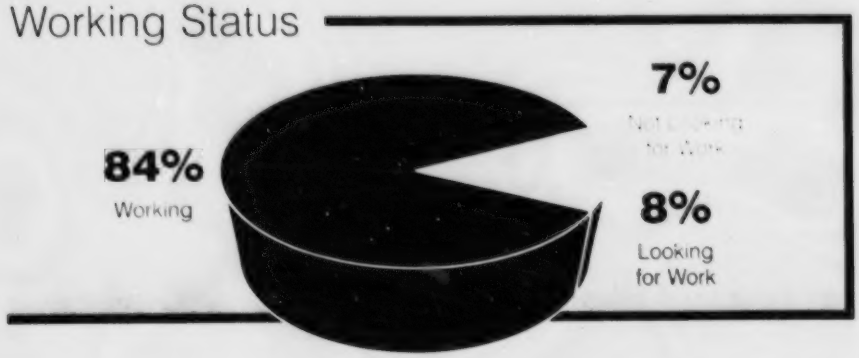
Overall Quality of Training Received



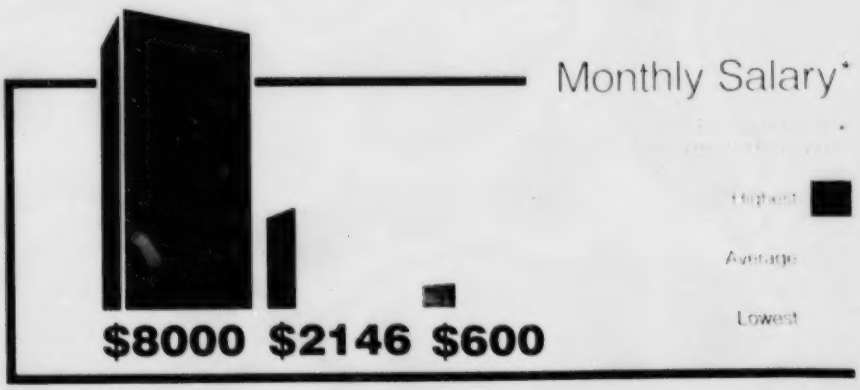
Employment Rates*



Working Status



Monthly Salary*



The statistics presented in this brochure were extracted from the annual survey of SIAST graduates. This survey was performed December 2001/January 2002, approximately six months after graduation. All graduates from the 2000-2001 academic year were surveyed, and 70% responded. This included graduates from programs offered at one of the four main SIAST campuses as well as graduates from SIAST Extension programs. Information collected from the survey included employment status, evaluation of training and general demographics. The complete results of the survey are available in the SIAST Graduate Employment Report available either through the SIAST Planning, Research and Development Division or online at http://www.siast.sk.ca.

Program: Name of program followed by the credential upon graduation.

Graduates: Number of graduates from all SIAST programs.

Responses: Number of graduates in 2001 responding to the survey – either by mail or by telephone.

Response Rate: Number of responses divided by the number of graduates.

 # Available for Work: Number of graduates working or looking for work. Also referred to as the Labour Force. Does not include those graduates who are not working and not looking for work.

 # Employed: Number of graduates who indicated, at the time of the survey, that they were working.

% Employed: Number of graduates working divided by the number of graduates available for work. Also referred to as the Employment Rate.

 # Employed Training Related: Number of graduates who indicated their job was directly related to the SIAST training program they graduated from.

% Employed Training Related: Number of graduates in a training related job divided by the number of graduates available for work. Also referred to as the Training Related Employment Rate.

 # Employed Full Time Training Related: Number of graduates in a Full Time (30 hours per week or more) Training Related job.

% Employed Full Time Training Related: Number of graduates in a Full Time Training Related job divided by the number of graduates available for work. Also referred to as the Full Time Training Related Employment Rate.

Average Full Time Training Related Monthly Salary: Average (mean) monthly salary of graduates with a Full Time Training Related job.

 # in Further Education or Training: Number of graduates who indicated at the time of the survey that they were enrolled in further education or training.

% Found Training Good, Very Good or Excellent: Percentage of graduates who found the overall quality of training received good, very good or excellent.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The major findings of the 2001 SIAST Graduate Employment Survey are as follows. For comparison, the 2000 figures are included in brackets. The results below are for all SIAST. Divisional breakdowns are identified in the Overview of the Results section of the report.

3,726 graduates were surveyed and 2,624 graduates responded for an overall response rate of 70% (68%).

SIAST offered 183 programs in the 2000-2001 academic year. As is the custom, the 2001 Graduate Employment Survey considered similar programs offered at numerous locations as separate programs, for an overall total of 212 programs.

2,372 of graduates were from Core programs, and 1,727, 73% responded to the survey (72%).

1,354 of graduates were from Extension programs, and 897, 66% responded to the survey (63%).

84% (86%) of respondents indicated they were working at the time of the survey. 8% (7%) were looking for work and 7% (7%) indicated they were not looking.

91% (92%) of responding graduates who were available to work were employed. 74% (73%) were employed in a full time occupation.

87% (83%) of working graduates responding were in a training related occupation and 64% (60%) were employed in a full time training related occupation..

5% (7%) of employed respondents indicated they were self-employed.

More than two out of three respondents currently not working – 70% (67%) - indicated they had worked at some time since graduation.

24% (38%) of unemployed respondents indicated not enough experience as the reason they were unsuccessful in finding a job.

Almost two thirds of those who indicated they were not working or looking for work - 64% (66%) - indicated they had returned to school.

18% (18%) of all survey respondents were taking some further education or training, with approximately half , 46%, indicating they were enrolled in a SIAST program.

97% (96%) of all respondents rated the overall program quality as good to excellent. and 92% (91%) said the program had met their expectations.

79% (79%) of all employed respondents indicated their training program had prepared them well or very well for a training related job.

Average salary for respondents in full time training related employment was $2,146 ($2,049) per month.

92% (93%) of employed respondents were working in Saskatchewan. 38% (44%) were working in Regina and Saskatoon. 8% (7%) were working outside Saskatchewan.

Overall average age of respondents was 29 (28) years.

59% (61%) of respondents were female, 41% (39%) were male.

9% (11%) of respondents identified themselves as of Aboriginal origin. 4% (3%) said they were disabled and less than 2% (6%) identified themselves as members of a visible minority.

INTRODUCTION

The SIAST Graduate Employment Report is produced from data collected in the annual SIAST Graduate Employment Survey. This survey collects data on a variety of questions relating to the employment status, evaluation of training, and general demographic characteristics of SIAST's graduates.

Scope

The 2001 SIAST Graduate Employment Survey collected data from those graduates who completed a SIAST program of study and graduated during the 2000-2001 academic year. The programs surveyed include those offered at the four main SIAST campuses: Kelsey in Saskatoon, Palliser in Moose Jaw, Wascana in Regina, as well as the two Woodland campuses - in Prince Albert and Meadow Lake. Also surveyed were the graduates from the SIAST Extension programs which are offered at numerous locations throughout the province of Saskatchewan.

The results of the survey provide valuable information on SIAST graduates. This information is used to generate a number of reports of which the SIAST Graduate Employment Report is the main report produced. A wide range of people, from SIAST management, high school students and career counselors, labour analysts, and policy administrators, use the Graduate Employment Report as a reference document.

The training programs from which the graduates are surveyed are those which are 12 weeks or longer in duration. They include Applied Certificate, Certificate, Advanced Certificate, and Diploma programs. The majority of graduates surveyed for the 2001 survey completed their programs in late spring of 2001 and were surveyed approximately six months later, in December 2001 and January 2002.

Methodology

The Office of the SIAST Registrar provided the Institutional Research Office with the list of the 2001 graduates. The list included mailing addresses and telephone numbers. In November/December 2001, the graduates were sent a survey questionnaire to complete along with a letter explaining the purpose of the study. Those graduates who did not respond to the mail-out questionnaires were subsequently contacted by telephone in February of 2002 and asked to answer the questionnaire one-on-one with an interviewer. NorSask Consumer Interviewing Services Ltd. of Saskatoon conducted the telephone interviews. In order to provide the highest response rate possible, every effort was made in contacting the graduates.

SIAST Planning, Research and Development personnel input the survey responses that had been received through the mail. Data from NorSask Consumer Interviewing Services was collected and input using CATI (computer assisted telephone interview) technology. An electronic format of the telephone results was integrated with the mail-in responses. The data was checked for input accuracy, consistency, and was then analyzed. The SIAST Graduate Employment Report was compiled from the results of the analysis and prepared for hard copy printing and Internet distribution.

Response

All 2001 SIAST graduates, as defined in the list provided by the Office of the SIAST Registrar, were surveyed. A percentage of the SIAST graduate population responded to the survey. The results presented in the Graduate Employment Report are based on the percentage of respondents and relate to their status at the time they were surveyed. The Graduate Employment Survey did not use a random sample methodology.

Format

The SIAST Graduate Employment Report presents the findings of the Graduate Employment Survey in two main sections: Overview of Results and Program Statistics.

The Overview of Results summarizes the survey results in text, tables and graphs format. The areas examined in this section include program assessment, employment status, continuing education, and general graduate demographics. Results are presented overall for SIAST, separated by Core programs total and Extension programs total. The additional breakdown of results for the Core Programs, based on the six program divisions at SIAST, is provided.

The six divisions are:

- Business and Agriculture
- Community Services
- Industrial Training
- Nursing
- Science and Health
- Technology

SIAST Core programs are defined as any SIAST program funded by the core budget and for the most part offered at one of the four Institute campuses. SIAST Extension programs are generally non-core funded and are offered through a variety of delivery formats, including distance education learning and industry-based training formats.

The Program Statistics section of the report presents the results program by program, listed within the appropriate program division.

A complete listing of the programs within each division, is identified at the beginning of the division section. Program information, for the majority of programs is presented as two programs per page.

The results provided for the programs include:

- Program Name and location of training
- Number of Graduates and Respondents
- Employment Status
- Location of Training Related Employment
- Special Notes
- Training Related Occupation Listing
- Full Time Training Related Monthly Salary
- Training Related Employer Listing
- Quality of Training Received

Employment information is presented as a percentage of those graduates available to work. The available to work is the labour force and is defined as those currently employed as well as the not employed who are seeking employment.

The results of some programs, because of a low graduate or response count, are not presented individually. These programs are listed at the beginning of the appropriate program division section. Though low in count, these program results are still included in the overall analysis and results.

The appendices at the back of the report contain a listing of programs that have revised names or credentials; a copy of the survey questionnaire; a question by question response count; and a contact list for further information; and a feedback questionnaire.

Availability

This report is available in two media formats. A paper version is printed and a limited number distributed. An electronic version of the complete report can be found on the SIAST web page at: http://www.siast.sk.ca/departments/prd . The on-line version of the report is in Adobe Acrobat pdf format and will require the Adobe Acrobat Reader software (available free for download from the Adobe web page).

Acknowledgements

The SIAST Planning, Research and Development Division would like to thank those graduates who responded to the SIAST Graduate Employment Survey.

Reproduction of this report or parts thereof is permitted and encouraged, provided appropriate acknowledgments are given.

OVERVIEW OF RESULTS

Response Rate

In the 2000-2001academic year, SIAST offered 183 programs, but this survey considered the programs that were offered at more than one location as separate programs. Therefore 3,726 graduates from 212 different programs were surveyed. With 2,624 graduates responding, the overall response rate was 70%. The response rate by graduates of core programs was 73% and 66% by graduates of Extension programs.

In presenting the results, the total number of graduates responding to each question is provided (as "n"), and varies between questions: because 1) respondents did not always provide an answer to each question; and 2) some questions were not relevant to all respondents. For example, some questions were asked only of those who were not currently employed, and conversely, other questions were asked only of those who were currently employed. The number of respondents ("n") appears in the first column of most tables, and the percentages in subsequent columns in the same rows are percentages of this number.

Program Assessment

Which of the following best describes your reason for completing this program?

Most graduates indicated the reason for completing training was to obtain employment in that field. However, updating job skills was the reason given by 41% of graduates in the Nursing Division and by 27% of Extension graduates.

Employment

How many employment opportunities have you applied for since completing your training program?
How many employment interviews have you had?

The amount of effort graduates have invested into obtaining employment was indicated by the number of applications submitted and the number of interviews attended before they secured employment. These numbers are expressed as both means and medians because medians, as the midway number, are not influenced by extreme responses. The average number of applications for employment that graduates had submitted ranged from three to fourteen, while the median number of applications ranged from one to five. Technology and Business and Agriculture graduates were at the high end of the range, while Nursing and Science and Health were at the low end of the range.

There was little variation in the number of interviews in which graduates participated. The mean number of interviews or graduates from all divisions ranged from two to three, while the median number of interviews ranged from one to two.

Employment/Unemployment Rates

The employment rate was calculated taking into consideration the respondents who were available to work. The respondents who were working or looking for work at the time of the survey were included as being available to work. Respondents not working and not looking for work were not included in this calculation. The employment rate is the ratio of those employed to those available to work and the unemployment rate is the ratio of those unemployed to those available to work.

The employment rate for all SIAST graduates was 91%, and was fairly consistent among all programs. The employment rate for Nursing graduates was exceptionally high at 100%, while the rate for Community Services graduates was 83%.

Graduates who indicated they were not currently employed were asked if they were actively looking for work. Those graduates who indicated "yes" were classified as being available to work. Just over one-half of all those who indicated they were not employed were actively looking for work (53%). In this category, a higher percentage of Science and Health Division graduates (67%) and a lower percentage of Technology graduates (41%) were actively seeking employment. Those graduates who indicated they were not employed and not actively looking for work were classified as not being available to work and therefore not part of the labour force.

Graduates who indicated they were not currently employed were asked if they were actively looking for work. Those graduates who indicated "yes" were classified as being available to work. Just over one-half of all those who indicated they were not employed were actively looking for work (53%). In this category, a higher percentage of Science and Health Division graduates (67%) and a lower percentage of Technology graduates (41%) were actively seeking employment. Those graduates who indicated they were not employed and not actively looking for work were classified as not being available to work and therefore not part of the labour force.

Which of the following best describes the reason you have been unsuccessful in finding a job?

The two most common reasons given by unemployed graduates for not being able to find a job were "not enough experience" (24%) and "no jobs in desired location" (22%). Lack of experience seemed to be an especially important factor for Technology graduates of core programs, while a lack of jobs in desired locations was an important factor for Science and Health graduates of core programs.

The most common reason that graduates of core programs were not actively looking for work was that they had "returned to school" (69%). The reasons given by graduates of Extension programs had a similar percentage (66%) and were split between "returned to school" and "family responsibilities".

Education

Are you enrolled in any education or training program at present?

As was the case last year, 18 % of all SIAST graduates, whether employed or not, continued their education by enrolling in an education or training program. A larger proportion of graduates of core programs in the Community Services (30%) and Business and Agriculture (24%) divisions enrolled in additional education or training. Overall, graduates of extension programs were less likely to enroll in another program (12%) compared to graduates of core programs (21%).

Higher proportions of graduates of the Community Services and the Industrial Training divisions, at 57% and 55% respectively, were enrolled in other SIAST programs, while the lowest proportions were from the Nursing and Business and Agriculture divisions.

Overall, 7% of graduates reported being enrolled in "another post-secondary program", with a high representation (13%) from the Technology division. A substantial proportion of Industrial Training graduates (51%) and Business and Agriculture division graduates (44%) indicated they were enrolled in "some other program". This category included Apprenticeship and industry accreditation programs, the majority of which are in the Business and Agriculture and Industrial Training Divisions. Eighteen percent were enrolled in "university programs", ranging from 2% of the Industrial division graduates of core programs to 50% of the Nursing division graduates of core programs.

Demographics

Gender?

There continues to be more female graduates than male graduates, but the composition is quite different when core and extension programs are compared. Among graduates of core programs, the split was virtually 50/50 male/female, while among graduates of extension programs, the ratio was 24/76 male/female.

How old were you on June 30th, 2001?

The average age of SIAST graduates was 29 years, while the median age was 24 years. Graduates of extension programs were significantly older (both the mean and the median age was 34 years) than the core program graduates, whose mean and median ages were 26 and 23 respectively.

Between divisions, there was little diversity in the mean age of graduates in core programs, except for graduates in programs in the Nursing division programs, whose average age was substantially older at 38 years. With the exception of the Practical Nursing program, the graduates of the other programs in Nursing already had nursing diplomas and were registered nurses and were working and taking additional related training on a part time basis.

Although there were not large differences in the mean age between divisions, the proportion of graduates younger than 25 indicated that graduates tend to be younger from the Industrial division (81% younger than 25) and to a lesser extent, from the Technology division, where 74% of the graduates were under 25 years of age.

APPENDIX B: 2001 GRADUATE EMPLOYMENT SURVEY

SIAST
SASKATCHEWAN INSTITUTE OF APPLIED SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

2001 Graduate Employment Survey

October 2001

Dear Graduate:

Each year graduates from SIAST programs are contacted and asked to complete a Graduate Employment Survey questionnaire. Data from this survey is used in a number of reports that provide information to people in education, government, the private sector and general public. The data gathered is also used in the planning and development of SIAST programs and provides a way for graduates to tell us at SIAST how well we did.

As a recent graduate of a SIAST program, it would be greatly appreciated if you would take a few minutes to complete this 2001 Graduate Employment Survey questionnaire and return it in the enclosed, postage paid envelope. If you are a graduate from more than one SIAST program, you will receive a separate questionnaire for each program. Complete each questionnaire based on that particular program. Participation in this survey is voluntary and all responses will be kept confidential. Please respond by December 31, 2001.

Your co-operation and assistance is greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Gerlinde Sarkar
Director of Planning, Research and Development
